OHIO SWEEPED BY FLOODS

Newark Streams are Rising Rapidly This Afternoon

Several Houses in "Oklahoma" Now Surrounded by Water

Heaviest Rainfall of the Year at Many Ohio Points—Great Damage Reported from Celina, Marion, Wooster, Youngstown, Upper Sandusky and Other Buckeye Towns Today.

The state of Ohio is today suffering from a big flood. Dispatches to The Advocate from Lima, Findlay, Kenton, Youngstown, Upper Sandusky, Wooster, Celina and many other points this afternoon tell of frightful conditions which will cost many thousands of dollars.

In Newark the rain fell in torrents during the night, but early this morning the rainfall stopped and the sun came out brightly. Notwithstanding the fact that no rain had fallen for eight hours, the creeks about the city continued to rise, and at 2 p. m. the North Fork rose five inches in fifteen minutes. All the streams are booming, and in "Oklahoma" several houses are surrounded by water. The story of the situation in Newark and elsewhere over Ohio is given below.

People residing along the North and South Forks of the Licking river were alarmed Friday morning when they arose by the rapidly rising water. At an early hour the streams were out of their banks.

Both branches are out of their banks, but no damage was done except at the juncture of the two streams between South Second street and Vallandigham streets. Here the water covered the most territory. Barns and back yards were invaded.

Whole trees and debris of all kinds were carried downward by the flood. Numbers of people visited the swollen streams during the morning.

From 9 o'clock until 2 o'clock both the north fork and the south fork of the Licking rose rapidly, causing alarm all along their routes. The large area of land between the juncture of the north and south forks and Vallandigham and South Second streets is one vast expanse of water. Barns and outbuildings are surrounded by water, cellars are filled and in some cases the water had reached the first floors of dwelling houses by 2 o'clock.

At the northern end of Vail street the dwellings are surrounded by water. Along the east side of the street water is touching the foundations and filling cellars. The same condition exists along the south sides of Vallandigham, Baker and Palaskala streets and the east side of South Second. In this portion of the city the foundation is greater than that caused by the flood of 1903. Then the high water was principally caused by the swollen condition of the South Fork while today both the tributaries of the Licking are augmenting the good.

The North fork rose nearly three feet between 9 o'clock and 1 o'clock. Mrs. George Smothers of Vail street, relates that she entered her house about 1 o'clock on dry land and after remaining a few minutes came out and was compelled to wade through four inches of water to reach her neighbors.

At 2 o'clock the North fork was rising at the rate of 20 inches an hour. At 3 p. m. Raccoon creek was still in its banks and rising slowly.

Between one and three o'clock the and Wabash rivers have been forced to swim their stock to points of safety.

The waste water "gates" have been removed to give waters from the lake free outlet, as it is feared an east wind will break the west bank. The lake is the highest in twenty years. State Inspector McDonald has a large force of men repairing the abutment of the west bank. The bank was cut half through in places by an east wind Wednesday night. Several families were taken from their home in boats last night. The bridges of all railroads have been rendered unsafe and Celina is cut off from mail service, no trains coming in this morning.

It is feared that the bulkhead lock at the east end of the lake will give away under a west wind. This break would flood half of St. Mary's, as the bulkhead is ten feet higher than the town. Nearly all bridges in the county are down.

OHIO CLOUDBURST.

Findlay, O., April 1.—Advices just received from Mt. Blanchard, 14 miles southeast, are to the effect that that village was visited by a cloudburst this morning, which, with the rise in Eagle creek, has forced over half the people from their homes. At Findlay the water is now running wild over Main street, in the very heart of the business portion, to the depth of a foot.

SCIOTO OVERFLOWS.

Kenton, April 1.—Early this morning this locality was visited by an incessant downpour of rain. As a result the Scioto river has overflowed its banks. Thousands of acres of land are inundated. In many places the water reached houses half a mile from the river. People were rescued in boats, while others waded through water waist deep.

AT YOUNGSTOWN.

Youngstown, O., April 1.—A repetition of the flood of January is threatened here and the mills and factories, as well as the private individuals, are beginning to feel the effects of it.

Last night and this morning the Mahoning river rose 7 feet. It is rising at the rate of 9 inches an hour now and from reports along the watershed to Alliance promises to keep this up for hours. When the river had risen seven feet it just lacked two feet of high water mark. The rainfall last night and this morning amounted to 3.48 inches. The valley plant of the Republic Iron and Steel company was closed down last night when Crab creek rose suddenly. The lower plant of the American Steel Hoop company was badly crippled this morning and several departments were idle. Dozens of streets are completely washed out and hundreds of cellars are flooded in various parts of the city.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Upper Sandusky, O., April 1.—The big oil well on the Crumpe farm, two miles north of this city, which was drilled in Wednesday night and which flowed a stream of oil over the top of the derrick, was struck by lightning and the derrick and machinery were destroyed.

WORST SINCE '83.

Delphos, O., April 1.—Delphos experienced the worst flood this morning since 1883. A break in the canal bank about three miles south of town allowed an immense volume of water to flow into Flat Fork creek. This, together with the heavy rains, brought the water into Delphos and nearly half of the town is flooded. Rescuing parties under the direction of Marshal O'Neill succeeded in getting a large number of families to places of safety. Many families moved upstairs to escape the mad rush of water. The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton passenger train made two attempts to cross the flooded district, but failed. All traffic on the Delphos branch of the road is at a standstill. The water will not recede until the canal bank is repaired.

FLOOD AT KENTON.

Kenton, O., April 1.—This morning this locality was visited by an almost incessant downpour of rain, the heaviest ever known here. As a result the Scioto river has overflowed its banks. Thousands of acres of land throughout the county are inundated and in the city in many places people living near the river were driven from their homes early this morning, many wading through water waist deep, while some were rescued in boats. The railways are flooded.

IN MARION COUNTY.

Marion, O., April 1.—A phenomenal heavy rainstorm accompanied by terrific lightning continued throughout the night. In this city many cellars were flooded. On several streets the water is up to the bottom of wagon beds and many sidewalks are knee deep with water. Caledonia, Waldo, Prospect, Green Camp and Morral report the heaviest rainfall in thirty years. At Larue citizens were compelled to abandon the first floors of their dwellings, going to the second floors. All Marion county streams are (Continued on page 6, 5th col.)

CHICAGO BANDITS ARE SENTENCED

To Be Hanged on the 22d Day of April.

Resentencing of the Bandits Today Due to the Action of Gustav Marx's Lawyer

Chicago, April 1.—(Bulletin.)—The car barn bandits, Neidermeier, Marx and Van Dine, were taken before Judge Kersten this morning on motions by the state's attorney and were resentenced to be hanged on April 22, the date originally set by Judge Kersten. The court included all the legal requirements of "technique" in passing sentence.

The resentencing of the bandits was due to the action taken by counsel for Gustav Marx, who applied to Judge Chytrous for a writ of habeas corpus on the ground of errors in the trial judge's pronouncement of judgment and the clerk's record. The state today asked for vacation of the previous sentence, to which counsel for Marx objected on the ground that Judge Kersten had no jurisdiction inasmuch as the hearing for a writ of habeas corpus is pending. The objection was overruled. The convicted youths appeared in court with smiling faces and apparently in buoyant spirits. Asked in turn if they had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced, Neidermeier said he had nothing to say; Van Dine declared he was not guilty of the charge, and Marx mumbled, "Not much." What appeared to be a change for respite in their execution gave the convicted murderers new courage. A great crowd jammed the court room in the hope of sensational scenes, but the proceedings were comparatively dull.

Chicago, April 1.—Seemingly a bad bungle in the sentence of the car barn bandits, Marx, Neidermeier and Van Dine, confronts the state's attorney's office. Instead of speedy hanging for the condemned trio a long legal battle may result. The Illinois statutes provide that the date set for the hanging must not be earlier than the tenth day of the next term of the state supreme court, not later than the 25th day from the time sentence was pronounced.

April 22, the date on which, according to sentence, the bandits were to be hanged, will be the 27th day from the time sentence was pronounced. The fact developed that the attorneys for the defense had been quietly waiting till Saturday next, when the present term of the criminal court expires.

Proceedings were then to have been instituted to have the sentence set aside and the three bandits released. The problem with which the state's attorney and his assistants wrestled was how to correct the mistake.

Before any action could be taken by the state's attorney, application was made for writs of habeas corpus in behalf of the bandits. The writs were issued by Judge Chytrous and were made returnable Monday, April 4th.

ATTACK

By Togo Made Channel Dangerous

LARGER SHIPS MAY NOT GET THROUGH

Alexieff Arrived at Port Arthur from Mukden.

MANY JAPANESE ARE KILLED.

General Kuropatkin, Who Arrived at Harbin Recently, Is Now Transferring Headquarters—War News.

London, April 1.—The Times correspondent, in a wireless dispatch today from Kona bay to Wei Hai Wei, says that Admiral Togo's latest attack on Port Arthur only failed to block the channel entrance because there were no more than four vessels to be sunk. Nevertheless, it is probable that the channel has been rendered dangerous for the larger warships, and except for one small channel, the Russian fleet is successfully shut in. How far Admiral Makaroff will be able to remove the wreckage it is impossible to estimate, but it is believed that it will be very difficult to make an opening except for ships of smallest draught.

ALEXIEFF AT PORT ARTHUR.

St. Petersburg, April 1.—Admiral Alexieff, viceroy of the far East, arrived at Port Arthur from Mukden yesterday and was received by Admiral Makaroff, commander of the Russian fleet at Port Arthur, and other officials. The party then visited the ships in the harbor and inspected the repairs now in progress on the vessels damaged during the bombardment of that place by the Japanese. The party also visited the torpedo boat destroyer Silny, which distinguished herself in the last attack by the Japanese.

CHANGES HEADQUARTERS.

St. Petersburg, April 1.—General Kuropatkin, who arrived at Harbin, Manchuria, a few days ago, is transferring his headquarters to Liao-Yang, where a house is being prepared for him. At Liao-Yang, Kuropatkin will be in a better position either to conduct the campaign in Korea or to give battle in the event of Japanese troops landing at Niu-Chwang.

MANY JAPS KILLED.

London, April 1.—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, at Seoul, reports that there is continuous skirmishing between Ping Yang and Wiju, and that many Japanese have been killed.

The correspondent adds that a Korean spy at Ping Yang has been shot by the Japanese.

NO FIRE NECESSARY.

St. Petersburg, April 1.—The chief of the commissariat department, Rostovsky, says that not a pound of meat or bread is being sent to Manchuria, as the cattle and grain available there are more than sufficient for the demand.

Enormous herds and stores of flour are being concentrated at Harbin. About 500,000 boxes of tinned meats will be kept at Irkutsk for the outgoing troops and railroad men.

All the tinned meats are being put up in St. Petersburg and at Riga, according to a German process by which the contents can be served hot, without the use of fire, the tin being placed in another filled with water and having a false bottom containing a caribide mixture, which is forced into the water when it is desired to do so, and brings the contents of the dinner to a boiling point.

Tokio, April 1.—The first foreign correspondents left for the front today. Sixteen newspaper men, mostly British and Americans, departed from here the party goes to Moji, leaving there April 6 on a Japanese transport for the destination which is kept secret. It was generally understood the correspondents were not to go to the front until after the first big land battle, and the release of the newspapermen is taken to signify that some important conflict has been waged of which no news has been received. The Marquis Ito returned today from his special mission to the emperor of Korea. He was received at the railway station by the ministers and was granted an audience by the emperor of Japan.

London, April 1.—The Tokio correspondent of the Central News wires that Admiral Toga attacked Port Arthur on Wednesday night. No details of the attack have been received but it is understood that the attack was made for the purpose of taking soundings and ascertaining the effects of the last attack.

MANY STRIKERS ARE EVICTED

Families Forced to Walk Hundred Miles.

Much Suffering Among the People in Colorado, as the Weather is Raw and Rainy.

Trinidad, Colo., April 1.—Fully a dozen influential men among the strikers of Las Animas county have been deported within the last three days by order of Major Zeph Hill, in command of this district. Wholesale evictions of strikers at Gray Creek will begin at once. This means that hundreds of families will be thrown out and must leave this district, as the coal company owns all the land in the vicinity. The military will refuse them permission to settle in any other part of the county. A majority of the strikers have no money and their families will have to walk a hundred miles to reach points where they can obtain assistance. Many evictions are reported in other camps in the county and much suffering has ensued, as the weather has been raw and rainy.

DAWES Gets Delegates in Washington County—Convention Monday.

Narietta, O., April 1.—At the Republican primaries in Washington county, practically all the delegates elected to the county convention were pledged to Beman G. Dawes, the former Newark man.

The convention which meets Saturday, will name 50 delegates to the Fifteenth district congressional convention, which will meet here April 6. In the home precincts of ex-Senator T. F. Davis and ex-Senator John H. Riley, who had threatened opposition to Dawes, no contests were offered. The vote was the largest polled at a primary in this county.

DIVIDENDS WILL BREAK RECORDS

New York, April 1.—There was paid today the enormous sum of $87,225,500, in interest and dividends, an amount something in excess of $10,000,000 greater than was paid out April 1, 1903.

Montreal Fire.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 1.—A dispatch from Montreal says at 3:30 o'clock this morning a big fire was raging in the central business district of the city near the board of trade and many other large buildings. The fire which started in Watson & Co.'s building on St. Helen street, quickly spread to adjoining buildings which at that hour were in flames. The loss will be heavy.

Biggest Policy.

New York, April 1.—The largest life insurance policy ever taken out by an individual, one for $1,500,000 has just been issued by the Mutual Life to James C. Colgate, banker, and financier. The Mutual has re-insured all but $270,000 in other companies.

HEAVY

Loss Is Sustained by the Tibetans

TWO ENGAGEMENTS WITH THE BRITISH FORCES

Greatest Courage Displayed in the Fight.

THE MISSION OF YOUNGHUSBAND

Takes a Force of Lama's Army Which Blocked the Road to Lhasa—400 Casualties

Tuna, British India, April 1.—News has been received of severe fighting, the Tibetans having attacked the British mission under Colonel Younghusband. There were two engagements, and the Tibetans were repulsed with heavy loss.

The British captured the Tibetan camp at Curu.

While the British advance has practically been unopposed, the expedition suffered great hardship from the intense cold, and it was sometimes found impossible to use the Maxim guns and rifles, owing to the congelation of the oil.

The country is of the bleakest, without a sign of vegetation.

About 8 o'clock yesterday a flying column started to reconnoiter the Tibetan camp at Curu, whereupon a General from Lhasa with a quaint retinue came to interview Colonel Younghusband.

The general asked the colonel to retire with his mission to Yatung, for the purpose of carrying on negotiations, threatening an attack of it if the mission proceeded. Colonel Younghusband replied that negotiations had been proceeding fruitlessly for 15 years, and that retirement was now impossible.

The Tibetan General withdrew and Colonel Younghusband ordered his troops to endeavor to disperse the Tibetans, blocking the road without firing upon them.

For a time the tactics of the British were successful, but after a while the attitude of the Tibetan leaders convinced Colonel Macdonald of the necessity of desisting them.

The Tibetans numbered about 1,500, and their resistance of the effort to disarm them led to a smart engagement. The situation for a few moments was critical, Colonel Macdonald and Colonel Younghusband being only a few yards from the advancing Tibetans.

Revolvers and bayonets were used and then a rifle fire was resorted to, at which Tibetans fled, but not before several casualties resulted in the British ranks.

The Tibetans lost heavily owing to the inferiority of their weapons but they displayed the greatest courage, many of them coming on after they had been seriously wounded. After the action there were heaps of dead, a long trail of dead and wounded extended to the rear.

After a short halt the advance continued. Nearing the Tibetan camp at Gornu a second action took place, in which the artillery played the largest part. Finally the Tibetans retreated over the hills, with the exception of about 60, who obstinately held the village, which was finally taken by a mounted bayonet charge.

Among the Tibetans killed were the Lhasa General, the military commander of Phari and Lata, and the representative of the golden monastery, to whose influence and violent hostility the existing difficulties were largely due.

The Tibetan losses are believed to be over 400, while the British casualties are about a dozen.

The British force returned to Tuna last evening, and stated that rifles bearing the Russian imperial stamp, and Russian ammunition were found on the wounded Tibetan officers.

CLASS OF 3,100 CHICAGOANS INITIATED INTO ROYAL ARCANUM

Chicago, April 1.—An event unprecedented in the annals of fraternal societies occurred here last evening at a monster union meeting in the First Regiment armory, when a class of 3,100 candidates were initiated into the order of the Royal Arcanum.

The occasion was the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the establishment of the order in Illinois. Never before, it is said, has such a large number of men been initiated into any fraternal order at one time.

In this remarkable acquisition the membership of the Royal Arcanum in Illinois now numbers 27,000, thereby passing Massachusetts, the birthplace and official home of the order. The states of New York and Pennsylvania alone exceed Illinois in total membership. Fully 19,000 Arcanumites were in attendance at last night's meeting to witness the exorcism of the ritualistic work upon the 3,100 candidates, the ceremonies being performed by the famous degree team for Forest Park council of St. Louis.

THE RAILWAYS

THE REYNOLDS BILL IS PLACED
BEFORE THE GOVERNOR

B. & O. Had Another Washout Friday
Night—B. & O. Stock—Budget of Local Railway Items.

Columbus, O., April 1.—The senate has placed before Governor Herrick for his signature the Reynolds bill, which provides that railroad companies must provide engine hostlers, flagmen and assistant hostlers who can speak, read and write the English language. Failure to do so is punishable by a fine of from $500 to $1,000. The measure was asked for by the trainmen, who assert that the cheap foreign labor in these departments made the operation of trains dangerous.

The same body also passed the Smith bill, relieving the Western railway, formerly the B. & Z. & C., from the equipment of its rolling stock with automatic brakes until after March 1, 1910, by which time the road will be made standard gauge.

Washouts on B. & O.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company again suffered from the heavy rainfall of Thursday night. On the Lake Erie division, between Alta and Butler, the tracks were washed out in several places. A large number of workmen, together with a train load of timbers and gravel, was sent up to the scene of the washouts this morning, and it was thought that the track would be repaired in several hours. The worst washout occurred at a point near Butler, where the company has experienced most of the trouble during the spring freshets. Train No. 7 was detained via the Big Four and Columbus.

Baltimore and Ohio.

The Statist of London says: "It is to be borne in mind that the Baltimore and Ohio is now a very strong company, that its road is in first-class condition, and that when the existing improvements are completed it will be able to work traffic with a maximum of economy. With its large tonnage and heavy train loads it will be able to carry freight profitably at rates which might mean loss to a competitor less favorably situated. We consider the securities of the Baltimore and Ohio are attractive at their present prices."

Rock Island Changes

New York, April 1.—The Rock Island railway announced the following changes in officials, to take effect today:

B. L. Winchell, president, in place of W. B. Leeds, resigned; Robert Mather, first vice president, in place of C. H. Warren, resigned, and J. J. Stevens, second vice president, in place of Robert Mather.

The following changes are also announced in the St. Louis and San Francisco executive officials, as follows: B. F. Yoakum, chairman of the board; A. J. Davidson, president, in place of B. F. Yoakum; Robert Mather, first vice president, in place of B. L. Winchell, who was made president of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway.

The position of L. F. Loree, chairman of the board of the Rock Island system, is in no way affected by these changes.

THE COTTON TREE.

It Grows in Mexico and Is Immune From the Boll Weevil.

The federal department of agriculture has instructed the United States consular agent at Guadalajara, Mexico, to make a thorough investigation of the cotton tree which flourishes in that vicinity and report fully to Washington. It is evidently the object of the department to introduce the tree into this country if possible.

The cotton tree is said to be a native of the state of Jalisco, which is one of the smaller divisions on the Pacific side of the neighboring republic. According to Senor Illario Cuevas, on whose hacienda near Lagos it is being scientifically cultivated, the plant begins bearing when five years old and continues to be productive for half a century or more. In some instances a single tree has been known to produce as much as fifty pounds of cotton in one season, the fiber being very similar to that of the cotton plant and adaptable to the same uses. It is immune against the boll weevil and all other insect pests, and under proper conditions the growing of it may be made immensely profitable.

If the report on the tree warrants such action the department of agriculture will no doubt take prompt steps toward growing it in the cotton belt of this country. It is hardly likely that the cotton plant we all know so well will be supplanted, but as a part of the campaign against the boll weevil everything should be done which seems to tend toward immunity from that pernicious insect. It may be that the cotton tree will solve the problem. Stranger things have happened.—Houston Post.

St. Louis.

St. Louis is the only large city in the United States which is not a part of a county, says the Chicago Chronicle. The municipality is self governing. The county of St. Louis has no jurisdiction in the city. William J. Courtney, a clerk in the office of the clerk of the federal courts, recently attained his majority, and owing to the peculiar location of the house in which he lives he has been puzzled over the question of whether he should register to vote in the city or in St. Louis county. From the latest maps Mr. Courtney finds that the imaginary line dividing the city from the county passes diagonally through the house in which he lives. The house is on the north side of Gambleton avenue and therefore, if the information be correct, lies half in the city and half in the county. Mr. Courtney says that under the best advice he has got on the question a man should vote in the precinct in which he sleeps. He therefore decides to sleep in the St. Louis side of the house and vote in the city.

A Famous Elk Tooth Robe.

The famous elk tooth robe that belonged to a daughter of Old Crow, a Cheyenne chief, has been purchased by the proprietors of the Thomas Tribune. Old Crow's household was loath to part with the relic that had been the pride of the Cheyenne and Sioux Indians for several generations. The 728 teeth represented 304 bull elk, as there are only two good teeth in the head of each animal.

When the robe changed hands Old Crow's entire family of about fifteen aborigines was present to see that the deal was pulled off according to the latest rules of commerce. When the money was handed over there was a grand rush for the "wobaw" (meat) market, and the "chuck" that was hauled to Old Crow's tepee that evening was sufficient to feed a company of soldiers. The Indian is a free spender. He believes in the admonition to "eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we die."—Thomas (Okla.) Tribune.

Celery Beauty Cult in London.

West end greengrocers have been considerably astonished of late by a prodigious demand which has suddenly sprung up for celery.

The explanation is a curious one. A large section of smart and pretty society women, together with an equally large section who are not so conspicuous for good looks, have created a celery beauty cult.

Experts have declared that no drug in the world has the potency of celery for producing a clear complexion and bright eyes.

It must be eaten raw, say the experts.

It is not only a beautifier, according to its devotees, but it promotes health in various ways and also inspires energy and good temper.—London Express.

Insanity in London.

London, says Dr. Robert Jones, is responsible for the production of over seventy insane persons a week. In 1899 there were in England 36,762 insane, or one to 536 of the population. There are today 113,964, or one to 295. The recovery rate from all cases of mania is also decreasing, being now 38.4 per cent. Melancholia is increasing and also premature dementia. The same complaint comes from the continent.

THE SIGN OF MERCY

PROGRESS OF RED CROSS WORK IN JAPAN AND RUSSIA.

Hospitals Established in the Field by the Societies of Both Nations. Japan's Great Organization—Its Phenomenal Growth.

The recent departure for the east of a party of American women nurses to join the hospital corps of the Japanese army directs attention to that phase of warfare which deals with the care of the sick and wounded.

The Red Cross societies of both Japan and Russia are large, splendidly equipped and well organized, and detachments have already entered the field on their errands of mercy. Neither of the belligerents needs any outside help at present to care for sick and wounded, but should the war be prolonged the Red Cross societies of other lands will doubtless extend aid.

The Red Cross society of Japan came into being in 1877 during an insurrection in the southwest provinces, its object being the relief of the sick and wounded, and it took the name of Hakuaisha (Society of Benevolence). After the rebellion the society was made permanent. Then, the government having signed the international Red Cross agreement, the society changed its name to the "Red Cross Society of Japan."

Since that time the growth of the society has been phenomenal, the membership now numbering upward of 800,000. The imperial family takes a deep interest in the society and contributes to its funds. A prince of the royal house is always the honorary president of the society, and a princess is the head of the ladies' committee. The empress, too, is a frequent visitor at the headquarters of the society and to the Red Cross hospital. The example thus set by royalty has been to arouse popular interest in the institution.

In the storerooms at the headquarters of the society at Tokyo are enormous quantities of hospital supplies. Stacks of uniforms and black dresses for the nurses, blankets, bedding, cots, medicines, tents, wagon loads of dressing materials, litters and trains of ambulances fill the many big rooms. Within a day or two the Japanese Red Cross society can load a hospital ship or railroad train and start for the seat of war without the least confusion. The surgeons and nurses are ready at all times to respond to call, and the arrangement of the hospital stores is so systematic that they can be transported in the shortest possible time. The Red Cross nurses, male and female, are under military rule and do their work in the hospitals behind the fighting line.

The Red Cross society of Russia is the richest in the world, having millions in its treasury. It is a splendid organization and is already doing effective service at the seat of war. At a general meeting of the society recently held in St. Petersburg it was reported that 30,000 beds, $700,000 worth of bread and $200,000 worth of meat had been prepared for shipment. The funds immediately available for Red Cross work amounted to $3,000,000, and the scope of the work during the next six months contemplates the expenditure of $4,000,000.

EN ROUTE TO HARBIN.

Incidents in the Life of a Soldier in the Russian Army.

A small shopkeeper named Veruln, who carries on business near the Arbat, has received a curious letter from his son, giving particulars of how the czar's soldiers amuse themselves during their long journey, says the Moscow correspondent of the London News. The letter is dated from Muisovaya, the western terminus of the Transbaikalian railway. It begins with innumerable "loves" and "greetings" to relatives and proceeds:

"We are kept four days at Tchelinbinsk and only started on the 3d of February. We got here very tired, as we took two days to get across Lake Baikal, and it snowed all the time. Two of our men were frostbitten. We spent a night in the 'tepishuska' (station in the middle of the lake where soldiers rest). There were over seventy of our men in it. We had to get up in the night and pile logs on the fire outside. I wonder they did not burn through the ice.

"We are hungry to get at the Japanese. Kiss Lukeria and tell her I will bring home their pigtails to tie up the old cow with. Now for our amusements. We have a Jew called Yanko, a first rate little chap. His father is a rich man, and he taught us to play cards. He played quite fair, but won all our money. He says he can count to a million. Marakoff sold him the buttons off his coat, but the sergeant hit Yanko and made him stand in the snow and sew them on again. We call Yanko 'lobster,' as he got very red, being a proud man.

"Our men who were frostbitten got an extra tobarka of vodka. It is astonishing how easy it is to get bitten. What we want first is matches, as our train has hot air pipes. I wish we had a stove. Yanko had a whole box of matches, which he sold singly. I owe him 1 ruble and 3 kopecks.

"The second battalion of our regiment is at Harbin, and we shall see our old friends and also the Chinamen who are going to fight on our side. So what does it matter if the English go against us? If they do we shall stop at Chita and go back to India. Some of our officers fought against the English in the last war against the Turks. A Turk is a better man than a Japanese any day, and if we beat the Turks we can beat the Japanese."

A BROWNIE CLUB.

Denver Organization in Which the Midget Will Be Supreme.

A "Brownie" club has been formed in Denver. No man will be allowed to become a member who is more than five feet six inches tall, and the shorter the better, although the members state, according to a Denver dispatch, that there will be no limitation as to girth measure.

The members are measuring one another to see who shall be president, for this club will choose its officers not by ballot, but according to size. The smallest man is to be president, the next smallest vice president, and so on. H. E. May is probably the smallest charter member of the club, and he is anxiously measuring his friends to see if he has a monopoly on the presidency.

One of the bylaws of the club is to be that all unmarried members of the club when they become bachelors must marry a maiden at least six feet tall.

Any member joining the club who is still growing at the time of his affiliation is taken in only on approval. If he grows to be more than five feet six inches tall he will be expelled. An official "yard stick man" is to be elected, and it will be his duty to measure all doubtful ones at every meeting.

The club will have in its membership one large man. He must be six feet three. He will be the official guard, and it will be his duty to protect members of the Brownie club from outsiders at all their meetings.

Supporter of the Clean Money Bill.

Representative Gaines of Tennessee has in Boston an enthusiastic supporter of his clean money bill, says the Washington Post. The other day he received a letter from a Boston lawyer who, through the handling of unclean money, lost a thumb and came near to losing his life. The lawyer had taken a roll of bills to a bank for deposit and wetted his thumb and forefinger as he counted the money. Two or three days later the thumb and forefinger became sore, and blood poisoning set in. The thumb had to be amputated, and it was with much difficulty that the lawyer's life was saved.

Antipoker Pledge.

Alderman L. N. Morgan was asked the other evening by Thomas R. Danforth, a McKeesport (Pa.) business man, to take an antipoker pledge, says the New York Times. Danforth said he had lost $300 in a sitting at a poker game the night before and wanted to quit. He did not feel strong enough to fight the temptation when invited to play, but if he was backed up by a good strong oath he believed he could let the cards alone. Squire Morgan made out a fitting oath binding Danforth not to play poker for ninety-nine years, and Danforth swore to it.

A Sombambulist Dancer.

Sombambulist dancing is one of the latest methods of the expression of music. A young Russian girl is the "sleep dancer," as she is called, and her enigmatic ability was discovered by a Parisian magnetopath. While in a hypnotic condition this young woman, whose first name is Madeleine and whose last name is designated only by the initial "G," will act out in pantomime the feeling in a piece of music that is played before her. Her peculiar talent has excited much attention from writers, artists and students.

Rheumatism "THE PAIN KING."

Those who have ever felt its keen, cutting pains, or witnessed the intense suffering of others, know that Rheumatism is torture, and that it is rightly called "The King of Pain."

All do not suffer alike. Some are suddenly seized with the most excruciating pains, and it seems every muscle and joint in the body was being torn asunder. Others feel only occasional slight pains for weeks or months, when a sudden change in the weather or exposure to damp, chilly winds or night air brings on a fierce attack, lasting for days perhaps, and leaving the patient with a weakened constitution or crippled and deformed for all time.

An acid, polluted condition of the blood is the cause of every form and variety of Rheumatism. Muscular, Articular, Acute, Chronic, Inflammatory and Sciatic, and the blood must be purged and purified before there is an end to your aches and pains. External applications, the use of liniments and plasters, do much toward temporary relief, but such treatment does not reach the real cause or cleanse the diseased blood; but S. S. S., the greatest of all blood purifiers and tonics, does cure Rheumatism by antidoting and neutralizing the poisonous acids and building up the weak and sluggish blood. It is safe and reliable in all forms of Rheumatism. It makes the old acid blood rich, and the pain-tortured muscles and joints are relieved, the shattered nerves are made strong, and the entire system is invigorated and toned up by the use of this great vegetable remedy.

If you have Rheumatism, write us, and our physicians will furnish without charge any information desired, and we will mail free our book on Rheumatism.

YOUR PROTECTION IS OUR GAIN

DO you believe that we can afford to sell you something you don't want or that will not give you satisfaction? Our business depends on pleased customers. In fact any business does. Therefore we would take an enormous risk did we not fulfill every promise made in the columns of this newspaper.

With this point in mind—let us ask what risk you take in buying Rexall Mucu-Tone when we say we will give back your money if the remedy doesn't give satisfaction.

If we didn't believe that 98 per cent. of all who have taken Mucu-Tone have been benefited, we would not publish this advertisement.

There are any number of people right here at home who will gladly testify to Mucu-Tone's wonderful virtues, and if you call we'll gladly refer you to them. Read what Mr. Matt. Dillon writes:

"My little girl had catarrh so badly that the disease had begun to eat into the cartilage of the nose. Snuffs and instruments failed to do more than give temporary relief. I saw the advertisements of Mucu-Tone, but I could not believe that anything taken in the stomach could cure the sore membranes of the nose. However, I took advantage of your free trial offer and my girl began taking your remedy according to directions. I want to say right here that Mucu-Tone is certainly the greatest medical discovery of the times, and to thank you for the liberal offer that first induced me to give it a trial. Mucu-Tone has cured my daughter's catarrh completely. The discharge has stopped altogether and her breath is as sweet as can be. Again thanking you, MATT. DILLON, 24 N. Swans St., Albany, N. Y."

If you suffer from any of the following symptoms, we know that Mucu-Tone will immediately cure you. If it doesn't it's our loss, not yours.

Run down—can't work—feel constantly tired—have no appetite—or if you suffer from sore lungs, weakness, nervousness, pains in the stomach or back, then it is that you need Rexall Mucu-Tone.

Catarrh is not confined to the nose and throat. It may start there, but it leads to more serious trouble, particularly to the wasting away of tissues, which means a loss in weight. One bottle of Mucu-Tone will start you on the right road. It will put flesh on your bones and bring new vitality to your system.

Sold only at our store. Large bottle, 89 cents.

GRANVILLE MAN SHOOTS WIFE

Geo. Hackett Then Starts Towards Newark.

Fired Three Shots, Two of Which Took Effect—Wounds Considered Quite Serious.

Granville, O., April 1. — Shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon, George Hackett, colored, shot and seriously injured his wife, who had secured a divorce from him several days ago. For some days, Mrs. Hackett has been staying at the home of her father, "Bill" Smith, a colored man, who resides a short distance northeast of the village. This afternoon Hackett called at the home of Smith and asked to see his wife. When Mrs. Hackett came to the door, it is said that Hackett, without any warning, pulled a revolver and fired three shots, two of which took effect, one in the arm and one in the back.

Doctors were immediately summoned, who dressed the wounds of the injured woman, which are considered quite serious. Ever since Mrs. Hackett secured the divorce from Hackett he has been brooding over the matter, and his friends have feared that unless a reconciliation was effected, Hackett would do something desperate. After the shooting Hackett left and the last seen of him he was running along the road toward Newark. Mrs. Hackett has a brother, Charles Smith, who works in the barber shop of James Berry in Newark.

QUENTIN ROOSEVELT'S JOKE

Decorated Sister's Hat In Way to Amuse Schoolmates at Chapel.

The proudest boys in Groton, Mass., the other Sunday were Quentin and Theodore Roosevelt as they marched up the aisle of the magnificent chapel of Groton school, one escorting his mother and the other walking by the side of his sister Alice, says the Washington Post. It was the only occasion on which the family appeared publicly together during the day. The services were made unusually interesting because of the last Sunday in the school term, and the entire party appeared to enjoy it immensely, with the exception of the irrepressible Quentin.

While sober Theodore junior and his mother and sister were intent upon the words of Dr. Peabody, Quentin carefully decorated his sister's broad hat with his own small cap and let it rest there, perched upon the end of a feather. Miss Roosevelt did not notice the added weight, and glanced wonderingly at the tittering rows of boys at one side. It was not until near the close of the service that Mrs. Roosevelt caught sight of the strange decoration, and it took something less than a second to remove it.

At that instant Quentin was for the first time seemingly wrapped up in the reading. He did not look once toward his mother. But it was noticed at the end of the service that Quentin, who had walked in with his sister, walked out by the side of his mother and wore a subdued and chastened air. He was not seen out of doors again that day.

His Business.

"I think," she said, "that he has deceived us all. I don't think he is anything more than a clerk."

"Why?"

"Because right in the middle of a proposal last night his mind wandered, and he said, 'You could wear a silk smaller, miss, without any trouble at all.' I jerked my foot back, of course, but I knew right away why it was so easy for him to get on his knees before a girl."

For Secretary of State.

Many newspapers in the state have suggested the name of Hon. Webster P. Huntington of Columbus, as a fitting candidate for nomination to the office of secretary of state by the Democratic State convention when it assembles.

The Democratic party of Ohio would indeed be fortunate to have a man of his dash and brilliancy and eloquence and clear, conservative judgment, at the head of its state ticket in this presidential year, and the great battle of 1892 might be repeated and added to by the election of the whole electoral college and the entire state ticket, as well as a majority of the congressional delegation.

And should he be elected, all the citizens of the state could congratulate themselves that a man of his high attainments and fitness had been called to the second office in the commonwealth, and one who, in the performance of its duties and the administration of its affairs, would measure up with Jeremiah McLene, who for so many years graced and dignified the position, and of whom it has been so truthfully said, that he was the model state official of Ohio during its first century.

There is combined in Mr. Huntington all that makes for the highest conception of the public official: Lefty purpose, correct emulations, stainless integrity, good breeding, native ability, superior education, wide experience of men and affairs, and the open frankness that is always inseparable from the true gentleman.

These being, in brief, the prominent characteristics of Webster P. Huntington, it is not to be wondered at that his friends in every nook and corner of the state, and especially his newspaper brethren, who know him so well, are uniting in the movement to place the banner of the Ohio Democracy in his hands for the battle of 1904, with the supreme confidence that it does not float in triumph over a victorious field, on the evening of November 8, it will flaunt its defiance in front of the last breastworks of the enemy.

The Republican manipulators have not only dispensed with spring elections but they are now proposing to pass a law which shall create partisan election boards which shall count the votes in their interest whether they are cast that way or not.

When Senator Burton was elected in Kansas a few years ago Republican papers all over the country had flaming headlines how the sunflower state had been wrested from populism and restored to decency again. The kind of decency that this Republican Senator has been convicted of is punishable with imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Columbus Citizen: The conviction of United States Senator Burton, for a grave violation of the laws, is a theme for regret and not of partisan rejoicing. He is a Republican of Republicans. Were he a Democrat the Republican papers would be filled with partisan jubilation. He is a sample of "business in politics" and politics in business.

The riotous scenes in Berlin upon the occasion of the departure of 3,000 troops to German Southwest Africa emphasized the strong opposition which exists to the colonial schemes of the Kaiser. A mob of 1,000 persons mobbed the troops, and were dispersed by the police only after a severe conflict. The fact that the soldiers were going to the rescue of the Germans imperiled by savage foes does not seem to have been strong.

enough to overcome the feeling existing against colonialism. A large section of the German people cannot see any good purpose in spending millions of dollars and sacrificing many lives in the wilds of the dark continent for the sole purpose of increasing the territory subject to their rule.

CONGRESS

Will Aid Ohio's Canal Plans—Delegation Visited Members of the House Thursday.

Washington, April 1.—If the Ohio legislature makes proper appropriation for the improvement of the Ohio canal, congress will furnish funds toward providing a navigable waterway connecting Lake Erie and the Ohio river, a distance of 230 miles.

This assurance was given by the committee on rivers and harbors of the house to a delegation consisting of former State Senator Charles U. Shryock, J. M. Norris, Howard Shippis and F. F. Spangler, of Zanesville, and Judge E. M. Kennedy, of McConnellsville.

The delegation appeared before the committee to ask for an appropriation of $110,000 for the construction of a lock and dam in the Muskingum river between Zanesville and Dresden, with a view to connecting the stream water improvement of that stretch with the Ohio canal at the latter place.

The committee was informed that the state legislature contemplated the expenditure of a large sum of money for the improvement of Ohio's international waterways, and that $375,000 was to be utilized on the canal between Cleveland and Dresden.

If the present plans were carried out and congress made provision for the building of a lock and dam in the Muskingum river, there would be a 5-foot stage of water all the way from the lake to the Ohio.

The delegation was told that if the state carried out its canal program there would be no question that congress would do what was proper under the circumstances, which means nothing more or less than that the Muskingum river improvement would be provided for.

The laws of Panama which were in force on February 26, 1904, so far as they are not inconsistent with the provisions of the bill, will continue in force.

CHIEF JUSTICE PARKER THE COMING MAN.

(Pittsburg Post.)

There is little doubt that the Democrats of New York in state convention will endorse the nomination of Judge Parker as the Democratic candidate, or even take a more advanced step and instruct the New York delegation to present his name to the national convention and instruct the delegates to vote for him as a unit. This in the judgment of the best-informed politicians from all parts of the country will make reasonably certain the nomination of Judge Parker at St. Louis. The Southern states will go with New York; Pennsylvania and other Northern states are likely to do the same. This settles the question. The New York Times, reviewing the promising hopes of the Parker movement, says: "There is no element of Democratic division and discord in the candidacy of Judge Parker. He has been a Democrat all his life but has never taken part in political quarrels. He was a delegate to the national convention that nominated Cleveland in 1884. He was chairman of the Democratic state committee in 1885."

There have been divisions and feuds plenty in New York politics, Democratic as well as Republican. The factions have given and taken blows, but Judge Parker has never been a party to these conflicts. Even Mr. Bryan can find nothing to say against him. The Times bases its conclusion on demonstrated facts, when it urges that "his candidacy would evidently have a unifying effect upon the Democratic party." This is the striking fact in the politics of the day so far as the Democratic party is concerned, and it is a very important fact. His nomination will be received with enthusiasm that will grow in volume and power. The Times, carefully reviewing the records of both parties in their presidential nominations, states these facts in reply to the loose assertions that Judge Parker is a comparatively unknown man:

The criticism that very little is known about Judge Parker does not bear examination. Neither the Democratic nor the Republican party, in every campaign, names a candidate of national fame and conspicuous public career like Horatio Seymour, General Grant, Mr. Tilden or Mr. Blaine. The friends of Mr. Seward thought that Mr. Lincoln was too obscure to be available. General Harrison was not a great public figure when the Republicans nominated him in 1888. General Hancock, nominated by the Democrats in 1880, was a distinguished soldier, and Mr. Cleveland, nominated in 1884, had made as governor of New York such a record that his nomination imposed itself upon the party. But General Hancock and Mr. Cleveland had done only what Judge Parker has been doing all these years; that is, they had performed faithfully and with ability the duties that fell to them in their respective careers.

Therefore it is clear that by the same record of public service and Democratic fidelity that advanced General Hancock and Mr. Cleveland, Judge Parker is in the field for legitimate and deserved promotion. The Times continues:

The duties of a judge are performed almost in seclusion. Practitioners in court know him, litigants may know him. He comes before the public only in the opinions which he writes. The office of chief justice of the court of appeals is one of high honor and dignity, but its incumbent "gets into the newspapers" less frequently than a stirring New York alderman. If Judge Parker had not been equal to the tasks that fell to him we should most certainly have found it out. His life has been spent in the practice of law and upon the bench. Since 1888 he has been chief justice of the court of appeals. Is it not altogether to his credit

Is it not a proof of his strength of character, of his high sense of the dignity of his office, that he has not during those six years paraded himself or permitted himself to be paraded in the public view? In short, has not his career been of sufficient amplitude and distinction to constitute a degree of "availability" that does not fall below the standards set up in previous campaigns?

As to the effect of Judge Parker's nomination on the Republican party, the fact stands out that he is "the antithesis of Mr. Roosevelt in respect to those habits and propensities that have called forth the severest criticisms of which the President has been the object." Pre-eminently the country has already made up its mind that he is a safe man, and can be trusted in all emergencies. That is precisely what Mr. Roosevelt is not.

Judge Parker will be an acceptable candidate in New York. Weighing the currents and drifts of politics this will make him an acceptable candidate in other states of the Union. We believe the Democratic party will be united, solidified and strengthened in his support as it has not been in recent presidential elections.

IN COLUMBUS

And in May, the Ohio Democratic State Convention Is Likely to Be Held.

Cleveland, O., April 1.—Charles P. Salen stated today that he was informed of a movement within the state Democratic committee to adopt a resolution favoring the presidential candidacy of William R. Hearst.

"The chairman of the state committee, W. L. Finley, of Hardin county, is a strong Hearst man," said Mr. Salen, "and is said to be the Hearst manager in Ohio. I have learned that Mr. Finley is in favor of the unusual course of having the state committee adopt a resolution in favor of Mr. Hearst. This is really not in the province of the committee. The committee's duty ends in the calling of the convention and it is for the state convention to take whatever action may be deemed proper in endorsing candidates."

"The meeting of the state committee will be held next week in Columbus. All business preparatory to the state convention will be cleaned up at that time. It is probable that the convention will be called for Columbus in May. Columbus is the only city that has asked for the convention. Senator Lewis B. Hock, of Knox county, will probably be named for chairman of the convention."

SENTENCE

On Senator Burton Will Be Passed When the Bill of Exceptions Is Completed.

St. Louis, Mo., April 1.—The bill of exceptions to be filed by the counsel for United States Senator Burton, of Kansas, who was last Monday convicted of having received compensation for using his influence before the post-office department on behalf of the Rialto Grain and Securities company of St. Louis, has not been completed. Until it is completed and submitted to the government for inspection and perusal sentence will not be passed upon Senator Burton. It is considered probable that the bill of exceptions will have been completed by tomorrow and immediately submitted to United States District Attorney Colonel D. P. Dyer.

Colonel Dyer said: "I do not want to rush this matter. I will carefully go through the bill of exceptions, and it will probably take me until Monday. I could go through the formality of moving that Senator Burton be at once sentenced and turned over to the custody of the United States marshal or placed under bond, but I don't want to do that, as I prefer to do the whole thing at once after the bill of exceptions is formally filed with the court."

In the light of the disposition of Senator Burton to waive his senatorial prerogative, which renders him immune from arrest during the session of congress, it is said that no time will be lost in taking the case before the higher court on appeal.

J. A. WILSON

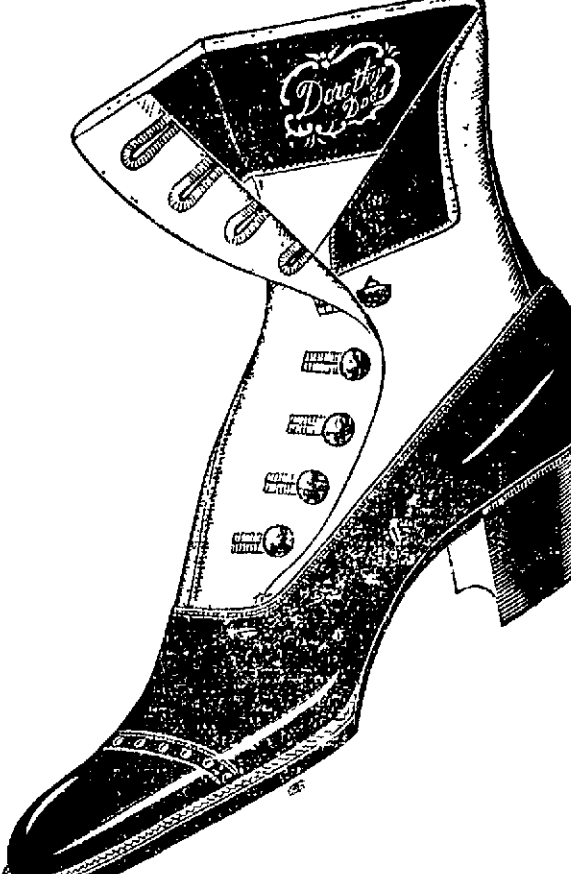

One of the Few Survivors of the Andrews Party, Dead at Perrysburg, Ohio.

John Alfred Wilson, who died at Perrysburg, O., a few days ago, was one of the few survivors of the gallant party that accompanied J. J. Andrews in his unsuccessful attempt to steal a train from the Confederate army. Wilson, with all his comrades, was captured and seven of the twenty-four were hanged. Wilson escaped from prison and made his way to the Gulf of Mexico, where he was picked up by a United States ship. During the raid he was selected as engineer of the locomotive to be stolen, "The General," and served in that capacity until the party was forced to desert the train.

The men who took part in this perilous undertaking, which was considered one of the most daring feats ever attempted during the civil war, were selected by General O. M. Knight, of the Second brigade, Fourteenth Army corps, and were picked out from among thousands on account of their reputation for bravery and daring. Some years ago a Mr. Knight, who took part in the raid, and was one of the few to make their escape delivered an interesting lecture in Newark on the raid. The old engine, "The General," was on exhibition at the World's Fair at Chicago and attracted a great deal of attention.

IN MT. VERNON

Man Hid His Bottle Between Laths and It Was Covered Up by the Plasterers.

Here is a bit of a yarn that a Newark man spins at the expense of a relative who lives in Mt. Vernon, says the Mt. Vernon Banner: "My relative lives in the 'dry town' of Mt. Vernon, and yet likes his little nip on the quiet. Just lately he has been building a new house. When the outside work was done and the laths were partly put on-ready for plastering, he had a pint bottle of good old rye between the laths and the weather boards near one of the pieces of studing. He was called out of town for a day, and when he got back he found the plasterers had commenced just about where his precious article was hidden, and there was no way of getting at it except by tearing down the plaster, and now every noon when the men go for dinner he can be seen trying to fish out his bottle by dropping a cord with a slip noose on the end, but so far has failed."

Brannock Bill.

Columbus, April 1.—The Senate Judiciary committee began its first meeting for the discussion of the Brannock bill Thursday. Senator Stewart, chairman of the committee, again announcing that, unless the sentiment of the committee should prove different from his own, there would be no public hearings.

Some of the proposed changes suggested by the liquor men, are of such a radical character as to practically constitute a new measure. One of them provides that a certain number of electors must sign a petition to be filed with the mayor requesting the sale of liquor, before it can be sold. This will be opposed on the ground that it is a license clause and unconstitutional.

Another change contemplates the provision that a saloon cannot exist in a residence district if the majority of the foot frontage of 300 feet either way from the saloon is used and occupied exclusively for private residences. The Anti-Saloon people claim that with such a provision, it would be easy to locate saloons in every residence district in Ohio.

An effort is to be made to get Governor Herrick to approve these changes.

MRS. AUSTIN Z. JOHNSON ASKS FOR A DIVORCE.

Consideration in Woodbridge Block Sale $30,400—Marriage Licenses—Day's Court House News.

Lorinda E. Johnson by her attorneys, Smythe & Smythe, has filed a petition in the Common Pleas court asking for a divorce from her husband, Austin Z. Johnson. The parties were married on December 23, 1874, and have six children, Harry Johnson, aged 26; Lidner, 23; Lucy Backlin, 19; Archie Johnson, 16; George Johnson, 12, and Minor Johnson, 9 years. The plaintiff charges her husband with cruelty and with charging her with infidelity. The defendant is also charged with gross neglect of duty in failing to supply the plaintiff and children with food and clothing. The plaintiff says that for the past two years she has maintained herself and children by keeping boarders.

Mrs. Johnson says that she is the owner in her own right of a house and lot in Newark valued at $1,500 but the same is incumbered with a mortgage held by the Home Building Association for the sum of $700. She asks for a divorce and the custody and control of the minor children, and asks that the defendant be restrained from going to her home pending the hearing of this case, and also asks that the defendant be barred of all claim in her property.

OHIO SWEEP BY FLOOD

larger than at any time since the great flood of 1882 and rising a foot an hour. The interurban road is under four feet of water. There will be considerable financial loss.

AT UPPER SANDUSKY.

Upper Sandusky, O., April 1.—The severest rainstorm in years fell in this vicinity last night. The official records show that 3.45 inches of rain fell during the night. The rain was accompanied by great electrical disturbance and considerable damage by lightning was done. The Sandusky river is raging and all lowlands are covered. Reports from Marcellus and other places along the Tymochtee indicate that it is higher than ever before in its history.

AT WOOSTER.

Wooster, O., April 1.—All roads leading into this city were flooded by the awful rain last night, which caused enormous loss to the county. Many miles of the Pennsylvania lines and the Baltimore and Ohio tracks are under water. Hundreds of feet of track on both roads have been washed out and it is believed that it will be many days before the damage can be repaired.

All high water records in and near the city have been broken. The rainfall in ten hours was three and seventy hundredths inches.

OHIO BOOMING.

Washington, April 1.—The weather bureau says the Ohio continues to rise at Cairo with a stage this morning of 47.6 feet, 2.6 feet above the danger line.

ILLINOIS CLOUDBURST.

Glencarbon, Ill., April 1.—The worst cloudburst in the history of this section swept over this town and adjoining district last night. The entire lower half of the town was flooded and the water came to within less than two feet of flooding the mines. Two miles of the Illinois Central tracks were washed out near here and the night accommodation train was stalled and the passengers were obliged to spend almost the entire night at the other end of the washout. This morning several of the crew reached here and secured a supply of food for the passengers, the first they had been able to secure.

COULDN'T DRIVE THROUGH

Mr. J. D. Tewell, one of the prominent citizens of Utica, had quite an experience with the high waters on Friday morning. He left his home at an early hour and started to drive to Newark. When he reached the Lake Fork bridge he found the waters so high that he was unable to cross it and was compelled to return. On arriving at the Licking bridge he found that the water had risen so high that he was unable to cross the bridge and was compelled to go around through the fields. He came to Newark on the train.

At 3:30 the flood had crossed Valandigham street. This means that the devastation will be greater than that caused by floods in recent years.

A work horse belonging to Ed Brown broke out of a barn on South Second street and was drowned.

WORKING GIRLS

A Cordial Invitation to Every Sick and Ailing Working Girl.

It is to these girls that Mrs. Pinkham holds out a helping hand, and extends a cordial invitation to correspond with her. Her long record of success in treating woman's ills makes her letters of advice of untold value to every ailing working girl, and from her wide experience and skill she quickly points the way to health. Her advice is free, and all letters are held by her in the strictest confidence. Address, Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Don't put off writing her until your health is wrecked.

Girls who work are particularly susceptible to female ills, especially when obliged to stand on their feet from morning until night. Day in and day out, month in and month out, the year through, the working girl toils; she is often the bread winner of the family, and must work that others may live; whether she is sick or well, whether it rains or shines, whether it is warm or cold she must get to her place of employment and perform the duties exacted from her.

Among this class the symptoms of female diseases are early manifest by weak and aching backs, pain in the lower limbs and lower part of the stomach; in consequence of frequent wetting of the feet monthly periods become painful and irregular, and frequently there are faint and dizzy spells, with loss of appetite, until life is a burden and it is hard work to drag about. All these symptoms point to a derangement of the female organism, and if taken in time can be easily and permanently cured.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Grateful Words from Working Girls Who Have Been Helped.

"I wish to thank you for the wonderful cure you have discovered for suffering girls. I am a working girl and do not believe there is a girl of my age in the country who has suffered more than I have with female disorders. Although ever so many physicians with their various remedies were tried, nothing seemed to relieve me of the terrible pains, and it seemed as though there was no help for me. Until I was finally persuaded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It worked like magic, for I had scarcely finished the second bottle when a great change was noticed in my whole general health, and in the three months time I felt like a new person."—Miss M. E. Paulson, 914 Willow Ave., Hoboken, N.J.

"Seeing so many women and girls being helped by your medicine I thought I would try it. I was very irregular in regard to menstruation, and had had no menses for four months. I obtained a bottle of your medicine just to see if I could cure myself without going to a doctor. One bottle gave me great relief, and now I am a different girl altogether. I will never be without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as I know I would not be working to-day if I had not used your medicine."—Miss Laura Riess, Standard Tea & Grocery Co., 766 Mass. Avenue, Indianapolis, Ind.

MOTHER

Was Ready to Drown Her Children—Ohio Woman Had Lost Her Steamship Tickets.

New York, April 1.—Mrs. Rose Wreearough, of Sandusky, O., arrived in Hoboken last Monday, having arranged to sail for Germany on the Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse Tuesday, after the death of her husband, who was a farmer near Sandusky. She had sold the farm and prepared to return to her old home in Germany with her three children and there pass the remainder of her days.

The children are: Michael, 4 years old; Rosa, 2 years, and Frederick, 6 months old. The woman had bought passage for herself and children, but the excitement and fatigue attending the trip here had so wrought her up that for some reason she did not venture on the ocean voyage. She wandered around the streets with the children until she was picked up by a policeman and placed in charge of Poormaster Barck. During her wanderings she had lost the steamship tickets. The woman and her children were later taken to police headquarters by the poormaster.

Yesterday she told the police she was preparing to drown the children, as she had decided that that was the only way to end their troubles. The oldest child said that his mother had tried to get out of the room with the baby during the night, but the door was locked. The woman was sent to St. Mary's hospital and the children are being cared for by Macon Fosdick.

ROBBERS

Killed the Express Agent Who Refused to Open Safe in the Oregon Express.

Redding, Calif., April 1.—The Oregon express on the Southern Pacific railway, south bound, was held up last night at Copley, near Keswick, by three masked men. Express Messenger W. J. O'Neill was killed after refusing to open the safe. Dynamite then was used and the car was destroyed. It is not known how much booty the robbers secured.

The express train stopped at Copley at 11 o'clock for water, and as the engine drew up to the tank the three bandits appeared with drawn pistols. The engineer was compelled to draw ahead some distance with the engine and express car, which were detached from the train. Coming to a stop at a lonely place, two of the robbers walked back to the express car, in which were Messenger O'Neill and a helper. Upon threats that the car would be blown to atoms unless the door was opened, ingress was obtained. Pointing their pistols at O'Neill and his associate, the bandits demanded that the express safe be opened. This request was refused point blank by O'Neill and in an instant he lay dead on the floor of the car, shot through the head. The helper, upon protestation that he did not know the combination, was not molested further.

Meanwhile the engine crew, under guard, was marched back to the express car, from which the bandits and the express helper leaped, after affixing a huge charge of dynamite to the safe. A terrific explosion followed and the car was shattered to pieces. The safe was wrenched and twisted and the door blown off. The robbers then helped themselves to whatever remained of the money, ordered the train crew to mount the engine and pull out, and decamped into the darkness.

Engineer Goesink immediately started for Redding, and upon arrival Sheriff Dickson and a posse of eight men were gathered to pursue the gang. The passengers of the express train were not molested.

ODD SITUATION

PRISONER ASSUMES NAME OF A PROMINENT MAN.

Over Protest of the Other Fellow.

St. Louis, Mo., April 1.—Arrested on the charge of having burglarized tools in his possession Edward Alexander of Taylorville, Ill., concealed his own name and assumed the name of John C. Shumway, a member of the Illinois World's fair commission, a former state senator and a leading citizen of Taylorville. In the criminal court here Alexander, under the name of "John C. Shumway," was sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary. The real Mr. Shumway began to receive letters of condolence and sympathy and suggestions as how to secure a pardon and yesterday he arrived here and identified the prisoner as Alexander from Taylorville and requested that Alexander be sentenced under his right full name. But the charge was not made in the court records, and Alexander under the name of "John C. Shumway" will be taken to the pen.

COLLAPSED

And Went to Bed When He Was Told That a Shortage in His Accounts Was Discovered.

Marion, Ind., April 1.—When informed by an inspector that there was a shortage of $478 in the accounts of the American Express company, in Fairmount, Chester A. Van Arsdale, the local agent, collapsed, and now lies at his home in that city a mental and physical wreck. No one but the members of his family and his physician are admitted to his room. For the past 18 months he was the Fairmount agent for the company. During the winter months he was associated with his father, W. P. Van Arsdale, in the coal business.

The alleged deficit was immediately made up by the father. Later a shortage of something near $1,000 was discovered in the books of the coal company. The father of the young man appeared heart-broken over the affair. He said:

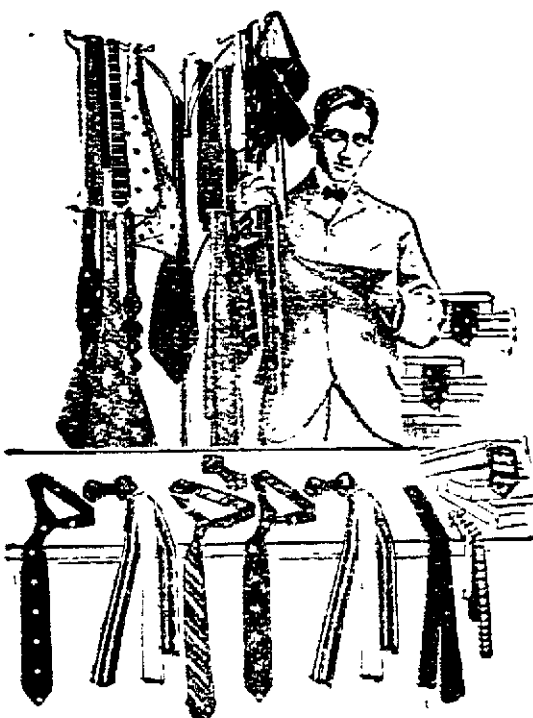

"There is nothing to show that my son gambled or drank or had bad habits. I haven't any idea what disposition has been made of the money. I am inclined to think that for the past six or eight months his mind has been impaired."

Mr. Van Arsdale believes that Chester had simply been fleeced out of the money. Dr. Holliday, the family physician, said he did not think young Van Arsdale's condition serious.
